Join a Headways™ Cohort Today - Perfect for New and Returning Team Members

We're pleased to offer more than 20 selections of Headways™ discussion series opportunities for all ICGS members to participate in during the 2023-2024 timeframe, listed below for you to review at a glance. Some topics have multiple cohort offerings.

You can explore the Headways™ lineup further on the Coalition website, where you’ll find selections organized by Topic, Profession, and Region. Follow the links online for detailed information about each cohort, including dates, times, discussion themes, and topics to consider. Many thanks to our Headways™ cohort facilitators—talented professionals representing ICGS member schools around the world.

Space is limited and expected to fill quickly.

register now
ICGS is embarking on a worldwide research study on well-being, engagement, and belonging of students in ICGS member schools. We invite you to sign up to participate in this no-cost opportunity to include your students’ voices in this important research project.

Students at participating schools will take the 30- to 40-minute-long online survey during the school day that will gather student perspectives on academic engagement, belonging and support at school, health and stress, sleep, family expectations, homework, extracurricular provision, and much more.

Participating schools will receive a copy of the final report and can, for a fee, also access their own specific school data. Please note there are a limited number of school places on this research project, so it is best to sign up as soon as you can. The first survey period will be offered during September-November, with an accompanying webinar to walk your school through the process and answer any questions. This research project is being conducted by ICGS in partnership with Challenge Success, part of the Stanford Graduate School of Education.

We're pleased to offer a digital Information Session for those who are interested in participating in the ICGS/Challenge Success Survey. This opportunity is open to those who have already registered to participate and to those who are considering participating. Follow the link below to register for this live Zoom opportunity. A recording will be made available for those who are unable to attend, and additional sessions may be offered, as demand dictates.

August 16, 2023: 12 p.m. ET / 5 p.m. GMT - Register Here

---

Celebrate the Power of Girls and Girls' Schools with ICGS

All members of ICGS are invited to join us at the UK Educating Girls’ Symposium at Benenden School, Kent, England, on Friday 29 September 2023.

Join us to hear from a range of Keynote Speakers and Featured Panelists, including Shola Kaye, Culture Change and DEI Expert; Dr Tara Porter, Clinical Psychologist and Writer; Dr Anne-Marie Imafidon, Founder of Stemettes and Author; Melissa Kilby, CEO of Girl Up; Roisin McCarthy, Founder of Women in Data; and Dr Helen O'Neill, Founder and CEO of Hertility.

You will also be able to choose from an extensive range of Breakout Sessions covering teaching and learning, student and staff wellbeing, leadership, information technology (including AI), global action research and high-performance learning.

Early Bird registration is recommended. This event is open to all school roles and positions, including headteachers, senior leadership, and teachers. The ability to choose different sessions makes this Symposium an ideal event for several members of the same school to attend. There are discounts available for group registrations.

register now

Nominations Being Accepted for ICGS Global Citizenship Grant

The Moulton Student Global Citizenship Grant helps engage girls in leadership, fortify their strategic thinking, and enhance their global mindfulness by developing empathy and respect for others. Open to all ICGS member schools, this $1,000 USD grant is awarded each year to student teams (ages 14-15) who create educational opportunities to benefit underserved girls in developing countries.

Nominations are being accepted now through October 13, 2023.

Guided by a faculty advisor, students will work on a project they propose that is directed at generating educational opportunities for underserved girls in developing countries.

learn more

International Coalition of Girls' Schools: A Truly Global Network

Visit our Membership Directory to see the breadth and depth of our Coalition schools. We encourage educators from around the world to collaborate with one another in this vital work. If you'd like to explore a partnership or exchange opportunity with one or more of your fellow ICGS member schools—which now number more than 550 schools in 22 countries, please fill out this Interest Form or contact Director of Membership & Outreach Jean Baker to make a connection today.
Items of Interest

ChatGPT: Friend or Foe of Girls' Education?
ICGS On Educating Girls Podcast

Meet the pioneers of Sri Lanka women's cricket in Centenary year
Sunday Observer

SOLA: Daring to educate Afghanistan's girls
CBS 60 Minutes

Women's Power Index: Find Out Where Women Lead — and Why It Matters
Council on Foreign Relations

Sisters, world leaders commit to campaign for gender equality at Rwanda conference
Global Sisters Report

Why there is 'no right age' to be a woman in leadership
MSNBC

Expand Your Professional Network with ICGS
Connect on LinkedIn

Items of Interest submissions may be sent to kosborne@girlsschools.org.

Career Opportunities in Girls' Schools

All ICGS member schools are welcome to submit job postings for complimentary display on the Coalition website. Thousands of interested job-seekers around the world visit our Career Board each year, and many talented educators have found their way to girls' schools through positions found on this dynamic platform. We recently enhanced the search interface by adding filters for each position category, location, and job type. This improved functionality will allow member schools to continue to build and maintain a powerful pipeline of professionals who work in their communities. Coming soon: The option for motivated job-seekers to subscribe to a weekly email roundup of the most recent additions to the ICGS Career Board, helping to ensure that your listings generate quality leads.